The Evolution of Global Internet Governance

Principles and Policies in the Making

Publikationen aus dem Zentrum für Informations- und Kommunikationsrecht der Universität Zürich,
Volume 56

Roxana Radu/Jean-Marie Chenou/Rolf H. Weber (editors)

The volume explores the consequences of recent events in global Internet policy and possible ways forward following the 2012 World Conference on International Telecommunications (WCIT-12). It offers expert views on transformations in governance, the future of multistakeholderism and the salience of cybersecurity. The book provides an interdisciplinary perspective drawing on international relations, international law and communication studies, which is further strengthened by the varied backgrounds of the contributors. It addresses not only researchers interested in the evolution of new forms of transnational networked governance, but also practitioners who wish to get a scholarly reflection on current regulatory developments. It notably provides firsthand accounts on the role of the WCIT-12 in the future of Internet governance.

Editors:

Roxana Radu, PhD candidate at the Graduate Institute, Geneva

Jean-Marie Chenou, PhD candidate at the University of Lausanne

Prof. Dr. iur. Rolf H. Weber, University of Zurich

Target Group:

The book is aimed at international relations, communication, and international law scholars interested in the evolution of global governance and in the particular field of Internet governance. It is also aimed at practitioners interested in scholarly reflections on the consequences of recent events in the field for future policies.
